

Youth Unlimited Needs You

Are you interested in:

Journalism
Designing
Improving Your CV
Making Friends
Having Your Say
Learning New Skills

If Yes then this is the place for you!

Youth Unlimited! The only magazine to read for the youth of Kingston, created by the young people for...well, the young people! We are a Youth Service Magazine; qualified youth workers teamed with the best of Kingston's notorious rabble to create a magazine that will interest and enthral, tantalise and tickle you.

Each week we combine forces, combating the powers of boredom, bringing you up to the minute info on what's up, what's down and what's just plain brilliant. Each Wednesday evening, 6:30 till 9p.m at the Devon Way Centre, Chessington, the gates of journalistic abandonment open and you could become apart of this creative free for all. Say what you want to say, to who you want to say it, each Wednesday evening, no holds bard.

Our mag gets distributed around the borough to schools, youth centres, voluntary organisations and local shops with a circulation of 2000 – 3000 people. Has there ever been a better time to get the last word? We offer a chance to get creative, get opinionated and get to know new people.

So if you fancy writing for Kingston's most cutting edge and generally funky magazine come along and meet our friendly team on Wednesdays or...

Text us at: 07795978328

Email us at: youthunlimited@rbk.kingston.gov.uk

Phone us at: 020 8547 6792

New people are always welcome!

Written by Alex Stone

